Administrative Policy Statement
Wake Forest University includes the value of gifts, prizes, donations and/or awards as taxable income to the recipient in accordance with federal and state regulations. It is the purpose of this administrative policy and accompanying procedure to outline the tax implications and procedures for documenting such gifts by University funding sources.

Reason for the Administrative Policy
The University must properly account for gifts, prizes, donations, and/or awards for tax purposes. Because the majority of these items are identified through employee reimbursement, procurement card activity, or charges made directly to the departmental budget, cooperation and assistance are necessary to ensure the proper treatment and reporting of gifts for tax purposes.

Responsibilities and Primary Guidance
When spending University funds to purchase a gift, there is additional documentation that must be completed, depending on the relationship of the recipient to the University. It is very important to communicate the potential taxation of the gift to the recipient and the pertinent information to Accounts Payable along with the invoice or expenditure voucher form. The Internal Revenue Code (“IRC”) Sections 74, 132, and 274 provide guidance on the taxation of gifts, prizes, and awards.
This administrative policy and accompanying procedure serves as a guideline and is not intended to describe every situation. Please address any related questions to:
